THE MCKINNEY MURDER TRIAL.

The Defense Continued.

J. R. Hoag, called—When I arrested McKinney I saw Courtney have a revolver in his hand, and for that reason got between him and Courtney. Some one on the sidewalk cried out, "Why don't you take him away?" From what I saw of the shooting I think it was not possible for McKinney to have inflicted the wound in the side after the second shot.

Dr. Lee, sworn—I was treating McKinney up to within three days of the shooting. He had a serious congestion of the bowels, attended by a bilious colic when I first saw him. Had he, as my patient, asked me whether it was safe for him to travel, I would have told him that I thought it inadvisable.

Chas. Cramer, sworn—Knew deceased and defendant by sight. On the evening of the 1st of August at about 6 o'clock, Courtney stepped out of the Capitol Saloon, on Main street, and walked down the street to where McKinney was standing in front of Harrison's furniture store. He stopped there, and said to McKinney, "you d—n s—t of a b—are you here yet? Didn't I tell you to leave town? Now, God d—n you, I want you to pay attention to what I say." He then put his right hand upon his hip. I went away and when at Wand's corner I looked back and saw McKinney and a couple of other men in the same place. I didn't see Courtney there then.

The court took a recess till 2 o'clock. At 2 p. m. the court resumed business, with Chas. Cramer on the witness stand.

CUTTING APPRAISAL.

A China Cook Stabbed by a White Waiter—The Cook Not Expected to Live.

Yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock William Ibbotson, known as "Billy" or "Boucey," a waiter in the Barum Restaurant, on Meadow Valley street, had a quarrel with Sin Ah Ching, a Chinese cook employed at the same place. It seems that the quarrel began about either a wrong order, or the misconstruction of an order given by the waiter to the cook for a dinner. We were told by another Chinaman employed in the kitchen, that Ah Ching had dropped the quarrel and was stooping down near the range, when suddenly the waiter came behind him with the knife and stabbed him. The knife is a large, long meat-knife such as is usually used in hotels and restaurants. Drs. Bishop and Lee were called as soon as the affair had occurred. At the time the full extent of the wound could not be learned. It is a clean cut in the left side, penetrating to the abdominal cavity. We found the wounded man on a narrow side-board, in a room by the side of the kitchen. He kept his body raised by holding himself up as if he feared it would pain him to lie down naturally. He was taken to a wash-house in Chinatown, where he now lies, apparently in great pain. The physician said that he would probably die, though he has a chance for life. Up to 2 o'clock this morning he was still living and able to speak rationally.

THE PRISONER'S STATEMENT.

Yesterday evening our reporter visited the prisoner in the jail, and he made the following statement:

"I gave the Chinaman an order—he cooked two orders. He said, 'You G—d d—n s—t of a b—t, three times, 'why don't you take it away?' He then struck me on the shoulder with two dishes he had in his hands. He grabbed a knife also, but I got it away from him some way. He still clinched me, and I cut him."

FROM A PIONEER IN AUSTRIA.—Robert Apple, an old-time miner in this district, is now at Carlsbad, Austria, and from that place writes to our fellow-townsmen James W. Wright, under date of August 20. Mr. Apple says: "Since my last previous letter from Virginia City I have had another hard time with my old sickness. I left Virginia for San Francisco; left there in the latter part of March for San Buenaventura; got my family from New York, and left again in the latter part of April. I left San Francisco May 1, and arrived here on the 26th. I have derived great benefit from the use of the water here, which is proving that all the physicians were mistaken in regard to my case. The chances are in favor of my being in San Francisco in December. I feel quite well, am gaining in flesh, have a good appetite, am getting a better color, and have confidence in my entire recovery. The water here will certainly cure stone in the bladder, stomach catarrh and other diseases. Patients drink of the water from three to eight glasses between 4 and 8 o'clock every morning. Liquors are not allowed. There are 13,000 invalids here from different parts of the world, and among the number a good many Californians. Please remember me to Jacobs & Sultan, Wierhold, Ham Light, Emanuel, and other friends in Pioche."

BROWN'S HALL.—Last night the beautiful comedy "Pygmalion and Galatea," was again presented at this hall. On account of the sudden and unexpected indisposition (?) of Thayer, the part of "Pygmalion" was read by Dudley. And we must say that, considering the short time he had for preparation, the reading was very good. Belle Hinchey was of course the center of attraction. She was, if possible more beautiful as the statue, and more lovely as the woman than on the previous night. In her rendering of the part of Galatea she is most pleasing, perhaps, in the more pathetic portions, to which her voice seems peculiarly fitted. George F. Bird played Leopold. Bella Bird as Cecyenne, the beautiful wife of Pygmalion, pleased every one and did justice to her part, which, though not the first, is one requiring talent. On the whole, there were comparatively few of those errors which are always sure to be made in the minor parts, and the many who were present were much pleased with the entertainment. We understand that Dudley will take the part of "Manual," for which part Thayer is put down on the bills, and that Bird will play "Dr. Desmaret" in the "Romance of a Poor Young Man to-night."

Jas. Stockdale sworn—Knew Morgan

Courtney in Pioche for about three years—two and a half perhaps.

Q. Do you know anything as to his habit of carrying a pistol? A. I can't answer "yes" or "no" without first making an explanation.

Q. State anything you know as to Courtney's carrying a pistol previous to his death—within six months of it. A. I saw Courtney go into a barber shop, perhaps six months ago, take his coat off and hang it up by the side of mine. I saw a pistol in the pocket of that coat; it was a sack coat; the handle looked like that of a Colt's six-shooter.

Q. After that time were you in the habit of seeing Courtney in Pioche wearing a sack coat? A. I have seen him frequently wearing the coat that I speak of.

Q. At those times when you observed anything about his coat pocket? A. He very often walked with his right hand in his pocket.

Q. Did you at those times observe anything with reference to his sack-coat pocket which had the appearance of being a pistol? A. From the fact of having seen a pistol in the pocket, and from seeing his hand always down in the pocket I was always under the impression that he had a pistol in the pocket. I could not tell what he had in his pocket; he might have had nothing but his hand.

Q. Did you ever communicate to McKinney before the death of Courtney that Courtney carried a pistol in his right hand coat pocket. (State objected on ground that it was immaterial, and would afford no excuse or extenuation for McKinney's killing Courtney.) An argument followed on the point, and it was not finished, will be continued to-day.

At 5 p. m. the court adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning.

FRONT AT HIGHLAND.—Yesterday a fight occurred at Highland. The combatants were men named Glover and George Malone, who was beaten on the head by the former with a pistol. Malone received two cuts on the head, and several trifling ones upon the face. Dr. Pillsbury was called to attend him. The wounds, though painful, are not dangerous.

THE PAPER MAIL OF THE RECORD, by some accident or mismanagement, was all put on board the Salt Lake stage yesterday, and whether it will ever reach its destination, we know not. Those of our subscribers who did not receive their paper of the 16th inst. will understand the cause of the delinquency.

PIEPIES.—These bitters are fast coming into popular favor, so much so that they are found at many of the most popular bars in San Francisco and in the Eastern cities. Their merits as medicine are set forth in the advertisement to be found in another column.

ARRIVED.—D. M. Tyrrell and wife arrived here by the Salt Lake stage 6 p. m. Monday. Postmaster Carpenter, of Hamilton, came in yesterday afternoon by the Hamilton stage.

JURORS, ATTENTION.—Jurors who have been summoned to appear in the District Court are notified that they are further excused until Monday next, at 10 o'clock.

WORK is reported to be suspended for twenty-four hours on the Raymond & Ely mine. The machinery, we are told, has stopped on account of the necessary renovation of the boilers.

COMING.—T. S. Merchant, F. Lamson, Dan. Anderson and Miss Jennie Hill will arrive here by the Hamilton stage to-day.

FOR RENT.—Building adjoining the Dexter stables, now used as a barber shop. Apply to GEO. C. JOHNSON.

IMMENSE FREIGHT ARRIVALS.—D. J. Pierson's mammoth ox teams arrived yesterday from Toano, in 19 days, with 65,000 pounds of freight, including one carload of flour for James Cronan, one carload of groceries for Jacobs & Sultan, besides general merchandise to other business houses.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of the Brooks Sewing Machine Co., of New York; they advertise, what is indeed a valuable invention, a first-class sewing machine for five dollars.

A new circulating library, imported cigars, tobacco, stationery and confectionery at J. Levin & Co.'s, opposite Hamilton's saloon, Main street.

This box sheet is now open at Brown's Hall, where seats may be secured for Miss Sallie Hinchey's opening night, on Monday, the 16th instant.
